

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HAPPENINGS

Promoting and celebrating the businesses and organizations of the Souhegan Valley.

Best of Souhegan, Best Expo Ever!

Over 2500 people enjoyed The Best of Souhegan Expo, which took place on Oct. 23, at Hampshire Hills. Highlighting the event were appearances by public officials Education Commissioner Lionel Tracy, Governor John Lynch and even a surprise visit by Senator Joe Lieberman.

The expo's theme was "Green Up! What Can I Do?" and there were free seminars on energy conservation and organic farming. CE Yo of Stonyfield Farms Gary Hirshberg delivered an inspiring talk on the environment to several hundred high school students at the pre expo event where students were also treated to a show projected on the ceiling by the Christa McAuliffe Planetarium.

And of course there was the food! I overheard one person say to a friend, "...I'm eating my way through the Souhegan Valley. YUM!

The expo was a joint project of the Souhegan Valley and Merrimack chambers of commerce. We are already looking forward to next year!

Buy it Local – Keep it Local

Autumn is such a bountiful season in the Souhegan Valley-fresh fruits, vegetables, baked goods, caramel apples-all available at any LOCAL farm stand.

You could easily go on line and buy the most beautiful items on the web and have them handily delivered right to your doorstep-or- you could promote the Local Economy by keeping your shopping local.

What exactly does buying local do for the Souhegan Valley community?

Keeps the money in the neighborhood.

Did you know that for every $100 spent locally, $45 goes back to our community? A far cry from the same $100 spent at a chain store-only $14.00 comes back.

Embrace what makes us different. One of a kind businesses are real and make the Souhegan Valley a region of neighborhoods. If we wanted big city living-we would move there. We can live bigger and better by keeping our dollars working in the Valley.

Get Better Service. Local businesses hire local people who understand their products and take more time to know their

Message From May's Desk:

Did you visit the Expo last month? If you didn't, you missed a fantastic event. Hampshire Hills' five tennis courts were filled with vendors and exhibits of all sorts from boutiques to caterers to casual clothing to the Mount Washington Observatory Educational Center! There was a business or service to identify for any need, any interest. The turnout from the public was terrific. We had demonstrations and in-booth presentations. The River, 92.5 FM, provided announcements and music for the day. And did you see the show in the Dome! The Planetarium projected their documentary film on the ceiling of the Dome! How cool was that! The students from a number of area high schools heard an inspiring chronicle of Stonyfield Farm's success from CE-Yo, Gary Hirshberg. Now how do we top that in 2009? Well, hold on to your seats – it's being planned as I write this piece.

A big - no huge thank you to all the many volunteers, exhibitors, sponsors, supporters of all the presentations and Chamber members and friends for helping make it happen. Each contribution of assistance blended with that of the next guy to make the day go smoothly and successfully. Thank you, Thank you, Thank you – to the Cabinet for the great publicity and to Hampshire Hills for the super venue.

We are kicking off a new effort, not just for the holidays, but for everyday. Each year the Chamber reminds us to think of our local businesses and shop for our holiday needs in our communities. This year with the economy in state of great concern to us all, it is more important than ever to do this. The news and the pundits keep talking about "main street". Well, we want to do something for "main street". The articles further along in the newsletter say it well. Please take a minute to look around and give your business to a neighbor's business. With the expansion of our commercial district on 101A and in other sections of the Souhegan Valley, it is possible to fill many of your services and goods right here. Big box stores may be owned by national chains, but they are managed locally. They employ local residents and support local organizations. They are the volunteers in the classrooms, the ones who pick up the litter along our roads, and they are the management who encourages the same of their employees. Big or small, the businesses that have made a financial commitment to be here deserve our consideration as consumers whatever that product is.

Local means more than the products that are offered. It is a mentality, a dedication to provide good service. It is a sense of community and connection to the people who come through the door. We have those businesses in the Souhegan Valley. We have a selection of supermarkets, discount stores, auto parts, too many to mention. Let's keep the local economy strong and support the businesses in the Souhegan Valley. Show your support with the door cling sponsored by Trademark Graphic Designs and Amherst Label.

Thank you. And have a very Happy Thanksgiving!

October Was a Month to Cut Ribbons

Welcome New Businesses to Amherst

October 4 marked the Grand Opening of SpaScape at Windmere Place, 71 Route 101A in Amherst. Pictured with Rick Boyd, Chairman, SVCC, owner, Linda Brandl, daughters and assistants Tarryn and Kalea Brandl were joined by Jessica Ehtier. SpaScape offers a variety of services provide by state of the art equipment - all designed to operate at the push of a button. A complete treatment using Aqua Massage, Feng Shui, tanning, sauna and others, can be enjoyed in 30 minutes or less. Visit or call Tarryn to schedule a tour. They have a great place to hold a "Holiday Stress Reliever" Spa Party! Watch for their Special Shopping Spectacular coming in December.

The celebration continued on October 11 with the opening of Transitions Realty, LLC and NH Scrapbook Cabin, neighbors at 294 Route 101, Amherst. Both are new to the Chamber this fall and are anxious to have you stop in to say hello.

Transitions Realty, LLC, Darlene Chauvette was helped by Cliff Harris, Past Chairman of the Chamber in cutting the ribbon. Darlene has years of experience to offer in personal service for all real estate needs with professional results. Special drawings for the Grand Opening of a Fall Gift Basket went to Ellen Pare' while a beautiful Fall Floral Arrangement went home with Luci Benoit.

NH Scrapbook Cabin opened their doors to a world of possibilities in creating keepsakes and memory keepers. A complete supply of everything you need or want for scrapbooking and a wide variety of crafts awaits. Bring your ideas or projects already underway and take advantage of the big, spacious work area and the equipment ready for your use. The owners Julia Duhaime, Mandy Sliver and Sheryl Nielsen welcome children in the "Cub Club" for play while the grown-ups shop.

customers needs. Did you know that local businesses are the largest employers nationally-and are most loyal to those employees?

Help out the environment. Local businesses make buying close by, saving on fuel and transportation charges-and making our air fresher and cleaner. Local businesses set up shop along commercial roads-away from houses and wildlife. It's that simple. What a way to “green-up”!

Put your taxes to good use. Local businesses keep it simple and make better use of public services. They pay their taxes to the community because they live in the community.

Invest in the Community. Local businesses are invested in the Souhegan Valley and are also consumers and clients of other local businesses. Commerce comes full circle. Non-profits also receive 350% more support from local business owners than they do from non-locally owned businesses.

Buy What YOU Want. Small and independent business owners know what their customers want and need. They offer lower prices - not prices based on national sales programs or promotions. They choose products their customers love and need which amounts to a win-win situation for all.

A virtual cornucopia is waiting for you in the Souhegan Valley. Just take a look at the member listing so that you can shop locally, dine-out locally, hire locally, hang out locally-the idea sounds simple and guess what? It is!

SHOP LOCAL IS WHAT YOU CAN DO

Signs of the holiday season will be popping up in area shops – if they haven't already. The Souhegan Valley Chamber of Commerce is hoping you will be seeing this sign as well. "Shop Local – What You Can Do!" is the theme of the latest effort to recognize the many businesses and services that are available in the area communities. "This is the time of year when even the hardcore Scrooges have to get out there and do a little shopping for the holidays", explains Executive Director, May Balsama. "With all the advertising, the sales and the commercials, it's the perfect time to kick off this campaign and remind us all that we can find what we need locally at the holidays and all year long. The health of our economy will be improved not just by what decisions are made in Washington, but by those made daily in our homes and businesses. We can support the economy of our communities by doing business with the companies in our own backyards."

Keeps the money in the neighborhood. Did you know that for every $100 spent locally, $45 goes back to our community? Community-centric businesses support the charitable and youth organizations. They provide employment opportunities. Many have the convenience of a website that allows for browsing with out leaving home and then the local pick up saves shipping. Shopping local is environmentally friendly, too creating less traffic and pollution. "Our area is fortunate to have the variety of businesses we do. From specialty boutiques to department stores. You can find it locally.", Balsama says. This campaign is not meant only for the gift-giving season, but to include all the goods and services used in all areas of commerce. Local trucking agencies, local marketing firms, local restaurants, local services of all kinds support many if not all the needs of doing business. The Chamber's efforts apply to all areas, not just the Souhegan Valley. To highlight and focus attention to Shop Local, door clings have been developed by Chuck Taylor, Trademark Graphic Designs, and sponsored by Amherst Label. These are available at no charge at the Chamber office at 69 Route 101A in Amherst or at Just Read Books, South Street, Ocean Bank, Jones Road, in Milford and NH Scrapbook Cabin, Rte 101, Amherst.
