Veterans Count Easter Seals NH's Veterans Services

How Your Support of Veterans Count Has Helped...

When a soldier suffering from Post Traumatic Stress Disorder came home...
...and could not find a steady job, Easter Seals stepped in to help provide some financial assistance and referred the veteran to a local vet center. Easter Seals also helped with the physical labor of moving the family into a new home and assisted with the resolution of a Veterans Administration claim.

It is tough leaving a pregnant wife and two kids behind...

...and even tougher being the one left behind. Being seven months pregnant, with two other small children to look after, daily household chores begin to build up, in addition to finances being tight. Over the course of two months, for 30-40 hours a week, Veterans Count services provided in-home assistance: completing household chores, providing childcare, and giving additional money for laundry and groceries.

Veterans Count approach Veterans Count works in partnership with federal, state and local resources to connect veterans and their families to services that meet their medical, social, emotional and financial needs. Veterans Count family-focused solutions address the unique struggles of military families—during deployment and upon returning home. Chamber members' support helps Veterans Count efforts to ensure no one falls through the cracks by cutting through red tape, filling gaps in services and delivering solutions locally, promptly and efficiently.

In 2008, Souhegan Chamber held a Veterans Count fundraiser, an auction and a dinner. Our first joint effort with Veterans Count yielded over $18,000. for the veterans' programs through Easter Seals. Thank you for your time, your donations, and you auction bids!

Join us again this year. Mark your calendar for an inspiring and enjoyable time, April 18, from 6:00 to 10:00 at Cirtronics, 528 Route 13 in Milford. Tickets are $40. per person and include music, buffet and lots of great auction items for your bid! Call the office or visit our website for more information, www.souhegan.net

From the folks at SHARE - Thank You!

January was a very busy month for the SHARE Outreach Program. We moved from our location at St. Patrick Church to our new home, the SHARE Center at 1 Columbus Drive, Milford. As you all know, moving is no small task. Thankfully, we had many wonderful volunteers that helped with the move. As you also know, it takes time to unpack and settle in. Consequently, we got behind in some of our tasks, one of them being to properly thank everyone involved in the holiday programs. It is still winter and there is still snow on the ground so we feel it is not too late!

During this past Holiday Season, SHARE was able to prepare and give out 247 Thanksgiving baskets and 321 Christmas baskets. This was a definite increase from the holidays of 2007, but no surprise with the present state of the economy. THANK YOU to all who helped with this undertaking either by donating food, preparing the baskets, giving them out or delivering the baskets to the elderly.

Message From May's Desk:

So, what are you doing? That's the question that invites members of Twitter to post a comment and share thoughts with the growing thousands who use this site. You can only use 140 characters at a time. Boy, will that be tough for me! I can use 140 characters just answering the phone. What are we doing here in the Chamber? Working for and with you to get out the word that the Souhegan Valley has great businesses, great restaurants and great professional services.

for as low as $25. for your company to be recognized. We are partnering with neighboring Chambers to broaden the reach of your network. We offer our businesses with fewer than 10 employees a free membership in Capital Connect through the BIA, a weekly update on issues in Concord that impact our small business community. Our relocation bags are going out to newcomers. Our Information Center racks get action from residents, business people and visitors alike.

We have the "Shop Local" campaign that will be expanded to include promotional magnets and posters featuring the wisdom of "Professor Seymour Green". We have the Souhegan Valley Home Town Phone Book that is coming out in late spring with all the listings, information and community resources that will tie the Valley communities – 22 of them – together. We create new networking opportunities each month at a different location for an After Hours and now, AM Network here at the office for a "Break" before the day begins to meet others and learn something new.

This newsletter is getting more response for the articles and Member Happenings, wider circulation. The ads are reasonable and can be targeted to your promotions. Our events help build publicity for the area, relationships with other organizations and provide sponsor possibilities

That's what your Board is doing. More than 140 characters – or words. But it doesn't mean anything without you and your input. The activities, the committees, the events have more than a fundraising purpose. They have an awareness raising purpose. Different platforms for exposure, participation. Please give us your ideas and thoughts about what we are doing. A woman I met several years ago started a business in Nashua. She was the first local placement agency and the first owned and run by a woman. Her motto from the start was, "I don't want to be the biggest, just the best". It was – she was. She never stopped working hard nor trying new things. I'd like to ask you to help the Souhegan Valley Chamber of Commerce do the same. We would love to be bigger – but being the best is much more important. The best for our members needs. And we can do that with your participation and input. Then everybody will know what we are doing.

Frederick's Pastries 109 Route 101A, Amherst

Jennifer Wojtaszek has been promoted to General Manager – Wojtaszek started working at Frederick's Pastries in 1999. She began learning the business assisting customers and working with pastry products. Within a short time period Wojtaszek brought her creativity over to the decorating side finishing Frederick's signature cakes and branching out to creating her own designs on Special Occasion Cakes and eventually Wedding Cakes. In 2006 Wojtaszek was promoted to Design Team Manager where her imagination really flourished. She was instrumental in training new employees which led to the opening of a new Frederick's store in Bedford, NH. Her enthusiasm and knowledge of Frederick's Pastries proves to be an enormous asset and she will continue to lead as Frederick's expands into more locations. "I am very proud to have Jen on our team", said Susan Lozier Robert, proprietor. "I know she will strive, as always, to provide only the best for our customers", concluded Robert.

Frederick's Pastries awarded WeddingWire's 2009 Bride's Choice Awards WeddingWire, the nation's leading wedding technology company, just announced that Frederick's Pastries has won the 2009 Bride's Choice Awards™! In its inaugural year, the Bride's Choice Awards recognizes and honors vendors from the WeddingWire Network that demonstrate excellent quality of service, responsiveness, professionalism, value of cost and flexibility. This year's recipients represent the top three percent of WeddingWire's vendor community, which includes over 100,000 wedding vendors from across the US. That means Frederick's Pastries is one of the very best in wedding cakes. Unlike other awards in which winners are selected by the company, the Bride's Choice Awards are determined exclusively by recent newlyweds through surveys and reviews. Frederick's Pastries would like to thank our past clients for speaking on our behalf and helping us win the 2009 Bride's Choice Award!

SHARE Program

The SHARE Christmas program had a number of challenges this year due to the ice storm and power outages, but once again the community stepped forward and helped. Gifts were provided to 347 families, 36 more than in 2007. THANK YOU to everyone involved in making this possible. Thank you to the stores who put up trees and collected gifts, to the stores and businesses that put up SHARE CHRISTMAS signs, to all the people who purchased gifts and gift cards, to those who came and helped on Community Christmas Day at the Center, to the volunteers who sorted the gifts and those who gave out or delivered the gifts. Thank you to the families, churches and businesses that adopted families, providing gifts for them — 139 families were adopted!

Once again, our community stepped forward and shared and cared. We at SHARE thank you for helping us help others. SHARE is able to share because YOU share!

Souhegan Valley Home Town Phone Book

That's the name! Our book will be the biggest, best resource for the twenty-two communities that will be included! Our pages will include listings for all the nonprofit, civic organizations in each town. Are you affiliated with a group that would be part of this list? Please, email or fax (673-5018) the contact information to our office. We don't want to leave anyone out.

And don't you be left out, either. When you want to find a plumber, electrician, financial advisor or bank — do you look for a listing for MA or VT? No — you want a local call and a local service for your needs. Doing business locally implies familiarity and dependability. So you reach for the phone book — more than 74% of consumers do. Be in the best book coming to 31,000 residences and businesses this Spring. If you haven't been contacted for an appointment, call Pete Eisen at the Chamber office today!

Caring for Ice Damaged Trees This Spring

by Lynn Quinlan

Trees are well adapted to survive the winter despite numerous and often severe injuries. Rot and insect depredation is slower during the winter allowing time for healing. The best thing to do is to wait until early spring to assess tree damage. By waiting there is less chance of removing a tree that has the potential to recover. Start by removing only hanging branches and trees that present a safety hazard.

- Follow “natural target” pruning methods. Remove branches at the branch collar (not flush with the main stem) as this will result in less decay. Wound dressing does not reduce decay and is not recommended.
- Correct pruning is the best thing you can do for your trees - both before and after injury
- Young or small trees that are bent or leaning can be gently straightened by staking with a guy rope:
 - o A less than 20-degree bend - will recover.
 - o A less than 60-degree bend - has a good chance of recovery
 - o A greater than 60-degree bend- has a poor chance of recovery
- If there is evidence of uprooting or if the trunk is cracked it is not likely that the tree will survive.
- Large trees can sustain a loss of up to 50% of their main branches or canopy without harm to their overall health. Growth may slow for a few years while the crown is replaced, after which it will resume at its normal rate.
- Many fallen branches and trees will continue to bud, creating food for wildlife.
- After limbs break off, the subsequent decay and insect damage to the trunk will provide cavities for nesting sites. A tree broken well below the crown will provide a larger cavity, and will be both a source of food and a desirable nesting location for many, including insect eating birds such as woodpeckers. Over time the trunk, as it continues to hollow out, will provide nesting sites and protection for mammals. Eventually it will return to the forest floor providing nutrients for new growth.

- Many fallen branches and trees will continue to bud, creating food for wildlife. Woody debris provides ground cover for small mammals, frogs and salamanders. Loosened bark plates provide roosting areas for bats.
- Brush piles around the edge of your property will give shelter and protection to numerous types of birds and other wildlife.
- Recommended rule of thumb for assessing damage:
 - o Check to see if broken limbs pose an immediate danger or future hazard.
 - o What is the species of the tree? Some species of trees react differently to damage than others.
 - o Was the tree in good health before the damage occurred?
 - o How much of the crown has been lost?

- o Check to see if the trunk has been damaged or if it has been uprooted.
- o Can a branch in the upper canopy become a leader?

- Is the tree of value to wildlife?
- It is always a good idea to get a professional opinion. Trees take a long time to grow and are worth saving whenever possible. You can contact professional arborists, tree services or the New Hampshire Co-operative Extension with questions or recommendations.

Milford Celebrates THE BIG READ

The Big Read is an initiative of the National Endowment of the Arts (NEA) designed to restore reading to the center of American culture. Northeast Cultural Coop (NCC) and Southern New Hampshire communities of Amherst, Auburn, Bedford, Deering, Fitzwilliam, Goffstown, Hampstead, Hollis, Hooksett, Manchester, Milford, and New Boston are pleased to be part of this national program, thanks to a grant from the NEA. Our chosen book, The Great Gatsby by F. Scott Fitzgerald, will bring together these communities for a two-month long series of programs beginning in mid-March. Our kick-off event for the series will be a reception, An Evening with Jay Gatsby, at the Currier Museum of Art in Manchester on Friday evening March 20 from 6 to 9 pm. There will be jazz music in the courtyard, light refreshments and a cash bar in the cafe, a Charleston demonstration, docent-led tours of the 1920's galleries, a silent art auction, and silent films with accompanying live piano music in the theater. Tickets are $25.00 per person with advance sales only.

Dress in Jazz Age costume is encouraged and appreciated.

Libraries in participating towns will be sponsoring open book discussions and cultural events to commemorate the Jazz Age setting of Fitzgerald's famous story about the American Dream and the "Roaring Twenties" era of our American history. Look for Big Read events posted on our website at www.wadleigh.lib.nh.us on our online calendar or call the library at 673-2408 for more information.

Saving Money With Your Cell Phone in 2009

Your wireless phone is more like a personal computer these days. With Internet access and data options, you have the world at your fingertips. From doing away with multiple devices to finding deep discounts and coupons, your cell phone may be your best money saving tool yet.

U.S. Cellular expert Eric Conlon, director of sales for U.S. Cellular in New England, has identified some easy tips for consumers to save money when using their wireless phone on the go.

- Shop And Compare On(line) The Go: If you think an item you find in a store might be cheaper elsewhere, you can send a text message with the product barcode or brand and model to Frucall Text at FRU11 (37811) to compare online prices of products while out shopping and making buying decisions. Customers can also call 888-DO-FRUCALL to get the same information.

- Skip the Pricey Navigation System – With a GPS-enabled handset or smartphone, you can get voice directional turn-by-turn directions for your next trip. Save the time you'd spend searching for directions or driving around aimlessly by downloading the applications such as Your Navigator.

- Coupons Delivered to Your Phone – Exclusive savings at national, regional and local merchants can be accessed through mobile coupon services such as Cellfire. New offers are added frequently, and coupons can be accessed via cell phone by geographical area and category. Cellfire is a free service, although standard data or usage charges may apply.

- Cell Phone Auctioneer – With AwayAuction™ for eBay®, a U.S. Cellular easyedgeSM application, you can download your My eBay information and set auction alarms so you never miss a bid or gift.

- Cutting the Cord – One of the best ways customers can save money with their wireless phone is to make it their only phone. Many consumers see paying monthly bills for both a landline and cell phone redundant. The country's economic woes could accelerate the pace of consumers moving to wireless phone service from traditional landline services, according to Fitch Ratings.

"Customers can use their cell phones to make their money go further in 2009," said Conlon. "Today's cell phones offer customers real time information at their fingertips making them much like a mini personal computer on the go."

The 8,700 associates of U.S. Cellular believe a wireless phone enhances people's lives and a wireless company should be in the business of bringing people together. U.S. Cellular has a wide range of monthly plans, including those with unlimited nationwide calling, unlimited free incoming calls and options to prepay. The company has a growing catalog of phones like the BlackBerry® Pearl and Curve, and the touch-screen Samsung Dolve, which offer e-mail and Web access. To learn more about the company visit one of its retail stores or uscellular.com.

AMHERST LABEL HOSTS "SINGLES" AFTER-HOURS

What's in a name? Not a reference to marital status! The eleven "Single" Chamber members who co-hosted our February Business After Hours joined together as sole proprietors for a Mini-Expo. We had an opportunity to meet each owner and learn about their unique services and products. Without locations that would allow them to host alone, these businesses shared in their own special evening.

Amherst Label opened their spacious cafeteria for us so each had their own table top display. Nick Calvetti, owner, with his management team, Nye Hornor and Jim Cutler rolled out the red carpet with Dawn Mahoney who greeted and welcomed us to their facility. Members and guests had personal tours of the work area where Jim explained the process of creating the amazing variety of pressure sensitive stickers, seals and labels they make. Many of the products familiar to each of us on store shelves are identified with labels made right in Milford! Thank you to everyone at Amherst Label for your hospitality. And thank you to our "Singles" hosts, The Armarium Press, Amherst Rose Realty, BLACK DAWG Sealcoat, Caring hands Massage Therapy, H2O Waste Removal, Hansen Printing, Hollis Veterinary Hospital, Just Read Books, NE Best Rate Mortgage, SendOut Cards and The Everyday Epicure.

Stories of Veterans Services

When declining health leads to surgery after surgery...

...lengthening an injured soldier's medical hold, which he had already been on for almost two years, his wife is forced to leave her regular employment to care for him. All their funds are eventually used up, with no money left to pay rent. Veterans Count provided two months rent until the soldier was discharged, moved and entered into a Veterans Administration system.

When extreme weather flooded the home of a deployed soldier...

...his wife was left at home to care for their five children. Water and mold damage made it necessary for this family to leave their home during the clean up process. Veterans Count provided the funds for a hotel and also paid for a contractor to remove the remaining water and treat the mold damage.
